Report on an International Level Virtual Workshop

Title: The methodological Perspectives of E-learning

Date: 28.08.2020-29.08.2020

Resource Persons: Prof. Sofia Mira and Prof. Kettie Sweeting

Even amidst the covid pandemic in 2020, the department was able to organise an international level virtual workshop on the methodological perspectives of e-learning for the greater participation and active cooperation of the students with two eminent professors and experts in the relevant field from USA. It was with the collaboration of the Hudson County Community College, New Jersey, USA and the Union County College, New Jersey, USA. The principal objective was to explore the methodological perspectives of e-learning as it was necessary during the pandemic days. Around 2000 people participated in the programme. It was streamed live on You-Tube. The department was happy enough to have the speakers like Prof. Sofia Mitra and Prof. Kettie Sweeting. An interactive session was also there to discuss the participants' observations, doubts and queries. Many participants across the globe asked their questions and discussed actively. All the registered participants were given e-certificates after submitting the feedback forms.
