2.3.1. Student centric methods

As a higher education institution, Srikrishna College places a strong emphasis on providing our students with a diverse range of teaching methods to help them reach their full potential. Our faculty members employ interactive lectures, project-based learning, computer-assisted instruction, experiential learning, and other engaging methodologies to promote engagement and participation. We firmly believe that using a variety of teaching methods is key to catering to students' different learning styles and preferences. To make our lessons more engaging and interactive, we use PowerPoint presentations and encourage group discussions, role-playing, quizzes, news analysis, and Q&A sessions. All these techniques are designed to foster interactive learning and promote critical thinking. To encourage creativity and active participation, we use wall magazines and seminars. We also organize field trips and educational tours to provide our students with a firsthand understanding of the socio political, historical, geographical, and economic factors affecting the lives of people in different regions. We believe that exposing our students to a variety of experiences is key to broadening their horizons and helping them develop a global perspective.
